

Kingston District Council invites engagement from the community about the new draft

“Disability Access and Inclusion Plan”

Engagement Summary

Kingston District Council is inviting public feedback in regard to its draft Disability Access and Inclusion Plan (DAIP).

The DAIP will provide direction and a whole-of-Council approach as we work to make our facilities and services accessible to all, including anyone who is living with a disability.

Frequently Asked Questions

Why does Council need this Plan?

Under the Disability Inclusion Act 2018 all local Councils are required to develop a DAIP. These Plans aim to assist Councils to fulfil their obligations under the Act.

Our Plan has been developed with consideration given to the various legislation, strategies and plans developed to support and promote access and inclusion for people living with a disability. The DAIP will inform key actions, financial commitment and decision making of Council and enable us to build an accessible, equitable and inclusive community for all.

Council is seeking first hand perspectives of the needs, challenges and experiences of those living in our community with disability, mobility or access issues.

Council is committed to working alongside our community to create a place where people of all ages and abilities can achieve optimal health and wellbeing with the goal of creating a stronger future for the district and its people.
